According to The Journal of American Institute of Architects:

Roofing waste accounts for over 40 million tons, or 5 percent of all solid waste generated annually in the United States. Improved use and reuse of roofing materials offers one of the best opportunities to reduce landfill waste throughout the world. -

January 27, 2011

Sustainable and renewable roofing is often overlooked when it comes the environmental conversations. Landfills continue to be overwhelmed with roofing debris. How can you do your part? Don't replace your roof ~ Restore it!!

A great way to celebrate Earth Day is to look into both the financial and environmental benefits of having a sustainable roof system. We offer roof systems that have high performance, high efficiency and are sustainable. Renewable roof systems are highly achievable. Take the steps now to avoid costly and avoidable tear offs.
